Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-18, drawn to the pedestal, classified in class 52, subclass 126.6.
- II. Claims 19-20, drawn to the method of leveling floor panels, classified in class 52, subclass 741.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions Group I and Group II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the method can be used on an apparatus or product with additional features besides those recited in claims 1-19 and the method of leveling can be done by hand with out using tools.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Specie 1, figures 1-4

Specie 2, figures 5-7.

Art Unit: 3635

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, 1 generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

During a telephone conversation with Mr. Eugene Gierczak on 3/16/04 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-18. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 19-20 have been withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-9 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Chen 5791096.

Chen discloses a pedestal adapted to support a floor panel 2 comprising:

- a base 1;
- a support means 13/15/16 for supporting the floor panel above the base; the support 16 extends generally radially outwardly for supporting the four corners of the floor panels.
- displacement means 12 and threads on 14 operable between the base and the support means for selectively displacing the support means and the floor panel relative to the base to level the floor panel while the same is supported by the support means; the displacement means comprises:

Art Unit: 3635

- a first threaded member on element 12; one end adjacent reference number 11 is fixedly rotatable to the base and another end presenting engageable means 121 for rotating the first member relative to the second member for displacing the support means;
 - a second threaded element on element 14 engageable with the first threaded element for selectively displacing the support means; the second threaded member includes the support means 13/15/16 and the support means includes a support surface 131/15/17
- locking means 14/screws/nut for locking the floor panel 2 to the support 13/15 and inhibiting the displacement of the displaceable means; the locking means includes internally threaded locking hole shown in figure 1 at the other end of the first threaded member and a locking bolt disclosed in column 2, line 26-55; see abstract also; this structure enables one to lock the floor panel to the support 13/15/16 and inhibit displacement of the first/second threaded members.

The recited right or left handed threads has been considered a matter of choice; one of ordinary skill in the art would have appreciated using either which would enable the apparatus to operate as intended.
